Fort Lauderdale, Fla. "As the OPAL Award continues to grow in popularity each year, so does the caliber of nominations," said Tim Courtney, vice president of franchise and network development at CruiseOne and Cruises Inc. "The judging panel was overwhelmed by every single nominee's passion for travel and giving back to others. This spirit inspires and encourages our entire network and contributes to a well-rounded group of travel professionals, ultimately driving success."

A resident of Gilbert, Ariz., Coleman-Ostrov has been a CruiseOne franchise owner for five years and embodies the spirit of the OPAL Award and Women's History Month through her involvement with the women-only networking groups Women's Success Referral Group and Female Empowered Networking, both of which work to empower and support local businesswomen, as well as partners with regional charities to improve the community. In addition, she has aligned herself with CruiseOne's signature charity Make-A-Wish®, by donating her previous car to the organization's Wheels for Wishes initiative.

Williams has been a Cruises Inc. vacation specialist in Manassas, Va. for five years and has made helping underprivileged children a personal and business mission. She volunteers for the Main Street Development Center, which provides childcare for low-income families; Feed My Starving Children Organization, which sends hand-packed meals to malnourished children around the world; and on a recent cruise donated school supplies to children in the Bahamas through a partnership with The Sandals Foundation, the non-profit arm of Sandals Resorts International, as part of Pack for a Purpose®.
