

World Travel Holdings Employees Cycle for a Cure in Memory of Former NLG President, Greg Davis

$12K Raised for Annual Dana Farber/Jimmy Fund Event

Port Washington, NY, August 23, 2007 – Vacation Outlet, part of World Travel Holdings (formerly National Leisure Group) and New England's premier seller of leisure travel, proudly sponsored employees at the recent Pan Mass Challenge, the nation's original fundraising bike-a-thon. On August 5, WTH co-CEO Brad Tolkin, SVP Pat Krippendorf, VPs David Crooks and Stuart Cohen, and WTH employees Mark Hurley, Jackie Murphy, Dawn Shackelton, and Jeff McLean rode the course in memory of the company's former president Greg Davis, who was hit by a car while training for the 197-mile PMC fundraising event on June 18, 2001.

"It was an honor for me to ride in this great event and to participate in the fight against cancer. I was proud to be a member of this team and to honor the memory of Greg Davis while supporting a great cause," stated Brad Tolkin, co-CEO of WTH.

Vacation Outlet has been a proud supporter of the PMC for the past 15 years, since former Vacation Outlet co-founder David Fialkow began riding in the event and offered office space to the volunteer team during its planning phases. Greg Davis and other employees also began cycling in the event around that time. Additionally, for many years, Vacation Outlet sponsored a water stop fully staffed with employees.

"As an employee of Vacation Outlet and WTH, I am proud to be a part of an organization that supports our involvement in such an important cause, but just as proud that we can carry on Greg's memory and the commitment he had to this event for so many years," said Pat Krippendorf, SVP of Customer Service and Operations.

Through employee contributions and rider sponsorship, Vacation Outlet and WTH donated over $12,000 to the Dana Farber/Jimmy Fund this year. In addition, WTH holds an annual corporate fundraising event that allows all employees to contribute towards finding a cure for cancer, while fondly remembering the former president who was committed to the cause and lived life to its fullest.
